GRANT AND THE BIG INDIANS. FROM THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, June 2. The President has nominated R. M. Wallace collector of the Third South Carolina District, vice his brother, A. S. Wallace, recently seated in Congress, and he has been confirmed by the

The President's nominations for West Point are confined to the sons of soldiers and sailors. There are none from the South.

Grant presented Spotted Tail with a fine pipe, a silver match box, and box of tobacco. Red Cloud was not present. He had a triendly interview with Spotted Tail this morning, who will, with his people, meet the Indian Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior in council to-morrow. Spotted Tail and his delegation had a conference to-day at the White House with the President and Secretary of Wes. Postery Red Cloud was not present. He had a retary of War. Boutwell and Hoar were present, but did not take part in the conference The Indians recited the old story of their wrongs, their wants, and their desire to be at peace with the whites. The President made a speech, assuring them of the desire of the government to have peace, and told them the whites were powerful, and would prove it if necessary; but he hoped for thoroughly amicable relations between the nations. Spotted Tail said that the Indians had kept their promises, but the whites had not.

In the Senate, Flannagan introduced a resolution in favor of the construction of an inter national railroad.

Harris introduced a resolution directing the Committee on Commerce to take into consideration the reconstruction of levees destroyed during the war. He estimates the expense at thirty-six millions. The committee to report next session. The resolution is still under discussion.

The Tax bill was resumed, the question be ing on income tax

There was great diversity of opinion. Schenck closed the discussion, and said the committee had proposed to reduce the income tax by increasing the exemption to $1500, which would be a reduction of nearly $6,000,000. His opinion was that was about as much of a reduction as could be safely made at this fime. But he was notat all prepared to say that next year and the year after, and so on, these reductions might not be continued. Gentlemen were not to be misled by supposing that all that was to be proposed by the Committee of Ways and Means in the shape of reduction of taxation was included in this bill, and he had no objection to distinctly state, so that there might be no misunderstanding, that he had prepared a section or two to be offered at the close of the bill, which was to reduce internal taxation and for other purposes, which would so amend the tariff as to take off some $23,000,000 or $24,-000,000 more than this bill would take off the interal revenue bill. But even if Dunn's hopes are verified, action has been taken by the Ring in Columbia which indicates that he is to be cheated. An act of the Legislature passed in September, 1868, provided that the managers of the polls, on the closing of the same, were at once to publicly canvass the votes and re-turn a certificate of the result to the county canvassers, who were to send those certifi-cates to Columbia. There are eleven countles in the district, thirty-three county canvassers, and, in all, eighty polling precincts. Last spring another act was passed, that carefully does not provide that the managers of the polls shall publicly canvass the votes, but that polls shall publicly canvass the votes, but that the votes of the respective precincts shall be canvassed only by the county canvassers when they have received the sealed ballot-boxes of all the precincts. Thus, a political conspiracy to change the result of the vote in the district, which before would have been known to the managers of perhaps the whole eighty precincts, can now be conducted with facility by the thirty-three county canvassers alone. The counting of the votes cast in each county may be done at any time within ten days after the election, and the county canvassers have an opportunity during this period to arrange the election, and the county canvassers have an opportunity during this period to arrange and consummate any fraud which they may desire. There is also another curious circumstance in this curious case. On the 14th of May, only seventeen days before the election, Governor Scott appointed a new body of county canvassers, composed almost exclusively of Whittemore's personal friends. The law requires that the canvassers shall be appointed aixty days prior to the day of election, and the fore illegal. But we suppose they will never-theless serve to secure Whittemore's return to Congress, so that he will be there to take ad-vantage of any future rise in the price of cadetships.

sixty days prior to the day of election, and the appointments made by the Governor only seventeen days prior to the election are there-

The reader will see that Mr Shaw's desire to have Whittemore in Congress, so that he can make money and pay back the $5000, is rather hard on Congress. Perhaps Whittemore has already entered upon his duty to Shaw when he sold the cadetship.

Whittemore's "Charities." [From the same paper.]

The Rev. Mr. Snedder, colored, who preaches in Darlington County, S. C., says that some time ago Mr. Whittemore came along with a time ago Mr. Whitemore came along with a bevy of schoolmistresses, and got dinner pre-pared for them in Snedder's house. One of the mistresses made a remark which sub-sequently induced Snedder to inquire of Whittemore: "What did you do with the sequently induced Spedder to inquire of Whittemore: "What did you do with the dollar a head that you collected of those schoolmistresses for the dinner that they had in my house?" "I expended the money for a charitable purpose," was Whittemore's reply. He said the same thing in relation to the fifteen hundred dollars which he received for the cadership sold in Washinghe received for the cadetship sold in Washing ton, through a broker, for two thousand dol-lars. Yet the most careful investigation in South Carolina has failed to show that he did anything with the money except put it in his own pocket, where he has it now. The pub-lic school records in South Carolina conclusively prove that he did not disburse the money for the benefit of any of these schools, and contravene the statement he made that he expended the money for the benefit of the public schools in his district.

All present indications, however, are in favor of the re-election of Whittemore.

THE LAND COMMISSION.

MORE LIGHT UPON A DARK SUBJECT.

Astounding Revelations.

There is some hope now that the public will be made acquainted with the inside workings of the Land Commission Ring. A correspondent of the Columbia Guardian, who signs himself "A Republican," opened fire on Wednesday, charging Senator Leslie and Treasurer Parker, with the guilt of the $130,000 land purchase. The same correspondent prints in yesterday's Guardian the following letter:

With your permission, I will again trespass upon your time, and through the columns of you paper make a statement that is due to you haper make a scattlett that is do not certain persons in connection with the Land Commission. The article on the subject of the "Land Commission," published this morning, has elicited certain facts that should be made known in order that full justice shall be meted known in order that full justice shall be meted out to all concerned, as that was the proposition upon which the late article was submitted. In that article Mr. Lesile was charged with procuring the signatures of Messrs. Parker, Chamberlain and Neagle to an application for the purchase of a large tract of land in Charleston County. This was a mistake. Mr. Parker had charge of the affair from the beginning, and Mr. Leslie says he signed the application in blank upon Mr. Parker's representation, and Mr. Parker, State Treasurer, procured the signatures of Messrs. Chamberlain and Meagle to the same paper by representing the land to be cheap and good, and a good investment for the commission to make. After having the signatures of these gentlemen and Leslie, he signed the of these gentlemen and Leslie, he signed the application, and his signature made the thing application, and his signature made the thing complete, because he was a majority of the board. And as he has the charge of the funds of the State, as treasurer, he made out checks upon the financial agent in New York and drew the money, without the signature of the Governor, who knew nothing about the transaction until as stated in the former letter. The original owners of the lands, for which the State rold $120.000 notically received but about State paid $120,000, actually received but about one-fourth of the amount. With these facts before them, the public may judge, or guess, or surmise, if they will, where the small (?)

or sirinise, in they will, where the shiad (f) sum of $30,000 has gone. This statement is simply just to Mr. Leslie, with others. Leslie is bad enough, but we would not put one touch of coloring on the devil to make him blacker than he should justly be.

Very respectfully, Republican.

Very respectfully, Vindicating The News.

A correspondent of the Guardian, "The Public," proves by the letter of "A Republican," the correctness of the statements already made in THE NEWS, and carries the war into Africa :

An article headed "Light on the Land Com-mission," and signed "Republican." has just come under my view. The reading of it sug-gests a few remarks, which I beg of you to insert in your columns.

1. "Republican" does not deny the statement 1. "Republican" (loes not deny the statement made by the writer whom he criticises, that the State, through the agency of the Land Commission, paid $120,000 for land bought of Mr. Schley at about $30,000. We take it for granted, then, that such a thing was done.

2. "Republican" charges that C. P. Leslie and some one in Charleston divided the spoils. They "handled the change," he says. That may be. Will "Republican" be so good as to show how and all about it.?

show how and all about it? snow how and an about 11?

3. "Republican" defends Mr. Parker against the charge said to be made by The Charleston News' correspondent, that he was "connected with the disposal of the $90,000." Justily enough, for all we know as to the fact of Mr. Treasurer Parker's agency in the matter, But does the correspondent charge any such thing exclusively? He speaks of "Mr. State Treasurer Niles G. Parker's course in regard to the purchase of certain lands in Charleston County." The meaning may be that which "Republican" denies, or it may be that Mr. Treasurer Parker, being both a member of the Advisory Board and State Treasurer, was doubly culpable; first, as member of the board, in allowing such a sum for the land, and secondly, as treasurer, in honoring the draft upon the treasury for its payment.

4. "Republican" exonerates Governor Scott

upon the treasury for its payment.

4. "Republican" exonerates Governor Scott and Secretary of State Cardozo from any blame in the case, because "they knew nothing about the transaction until it was all over." That may be. But he represents that "Mr. Lesile made such representations to Mr. Parker, treasurer, Attorney-General Chamberlain, and Computerlier, Naction. Comptroller Neagle," and we suppose, of course, also, to the present Land Commissioner, DeLarge, "as induced them to approve of the purchase." Will these members, one or all, be so good as to give their aid to "Republican" in throwing more light on the transaction to which they were parties, to a certain extent at least? extent at least?

-The bottom of a freight car loaded with seventeen horses gave way a few days ago on the Hudson River Railroad, while the train Canadian force, he said, consisted of the 69th regiment, with four pieces of artillery, and 700 volunteers, who fired volley after volley, but in so wild a manner as to do no harm.

Having had occasion to prescribe RUSSELL'S-Soothing Cordial in severe cases of Bowel Complaints in children and delicate females, I have been much pleased with its effects. I consider it a valuable medicine in all cases, in which it may be advisable to avoid the use of anodyne, and particularly for family use, as it is perfectly safe.

W. T. WRAGG, M. D.

CHARLESTON, S. C., 1868. I certify that I have most successfully used RUSSELL'S Soothing Cordial in the Summer Com-plaints of infants. He has fully exhibited the in-

Dear Sir—I have used your Soothing Cordial for Diarrhoza in teething children, and find it a very excellent preparation. It has a great advantage over most preparations of the kind in containing no Opium or Narcotk.

When these are required they can be added in proportions applicable to the case.

Mr. J. B. Russell:

DEAR SIR—I have used your Soothing Cordial for children extensively in my practice, and most cheerfully testify to its merits. I have found it, without an exception, to accomplish all it claims, and consider it superior to anything in use for children.

FOR INFANTS TEETHING.

CONTAINS NO ANODYNE.

CHARLESTON, May 16, 1868.

Mr. J. B. Russell, one of our careful and intelligent Pharmaceutists and Apothecaries, has submitted to my examination the formula for the preparation of a Soothing Cordial prepared and wended by him.

It affords me pleasure to express a favorable opinion of its safe and efficient adaptation to the particular cases of the diseases of children, which it is designed to relieve.

plaints of infants. He has fully exhibited the in-gredients of his remedy, and the tedious method of preparation. I recognize the prescription— containing no anodyne whatever—as a most safe and efficacious one in bowel affections of children. When much pain or restlessness attends the affec-tion, doses of Paregoric can be added to the pre-scribed doses of the Cordial according to the age of the patient. The compound, though more often, acts in an efficient manner without any ad-dition of anodyne.

I therefore can recommend its use in the affections for which it is designed.

and consider it superior to anything in use to children.

Its freedom from anodyne of any kind recommends it as a perfectly safe preparation in the hands of mothers and inexperienced nurses.

Very respectfully, &c.,
